nineteen hundred... and sixty-five

ИЗДАНИЕ

They stood here once, as we do—

Facing the unknown,
with courage and desire.

For beyond the horizon are new roads,
Greater tasks,
nobler deeds.

The trail to the future is challenging.

But always, when blazing it,
we will remember . . .

The twenty-third annual Lewis and Clark High School Tiger for... 1965.

CLARK

DEDICATION

Seeing for the first time a land that was vast and powerful and free, Meriwether Lewis and William Clark desired to tame its rivers, to scale its mountains—to conquer it. Such a land inspired in them courage, and greatness, and dreams for the future. They marked a trail so broad and clear all who came after could follow.

There is a man moulded from the elements of greatness whose courage, integrity and devotion have shown untold thousands of Lewis and Clark students a road through the uncertain years. He kindles a spark in the mind and imagination of every graduate.

We, the class of 1965, hold it our privilege to dedicate our Tiger to this man who personifies the Spirit of Lewis and Clark, Mr. Abraham Lincoln Parker.

The Parker Years

February 12, 1900, was a fortunate birthdate for Mr. Parker, for it provided his despairing parents of six a ready solution to the name problem — Abraham Lincoln Parker. This, as it turned out, was a fortuitous choice, for he has demonstrated many of the characteristics of his famous namesake.

After he grew up and attended school in Stillwater, Minnesota, he then went to the state University.

After earning his diploma, Mr. Parker accepted his first teaching assignment at Prairie du Chien, Wisconsin. But when, in 1926, the opportunity came to continue his career in Spokane, he was quick to answer the call.

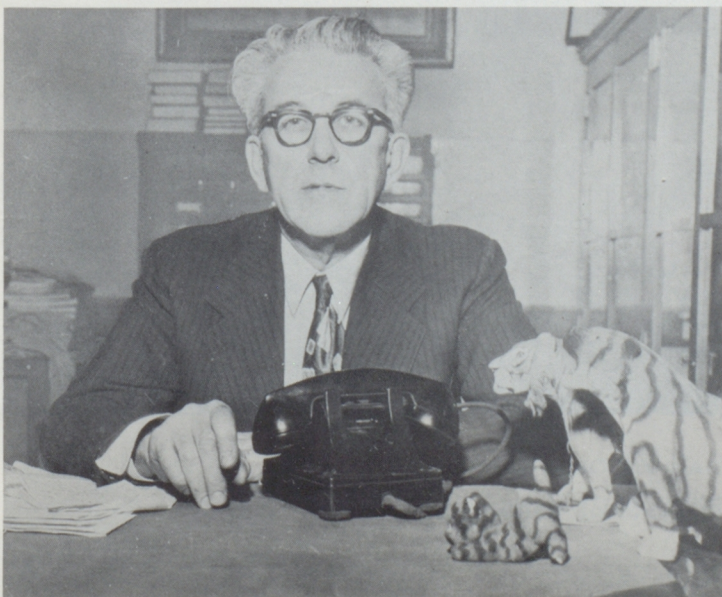

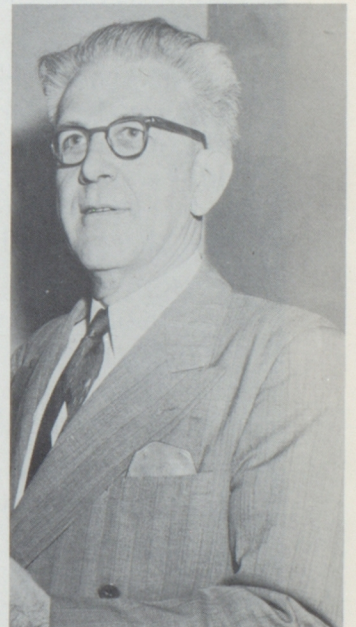

And so it was, Lewis and Clark had its first glimpse of the new civics and history teacher.

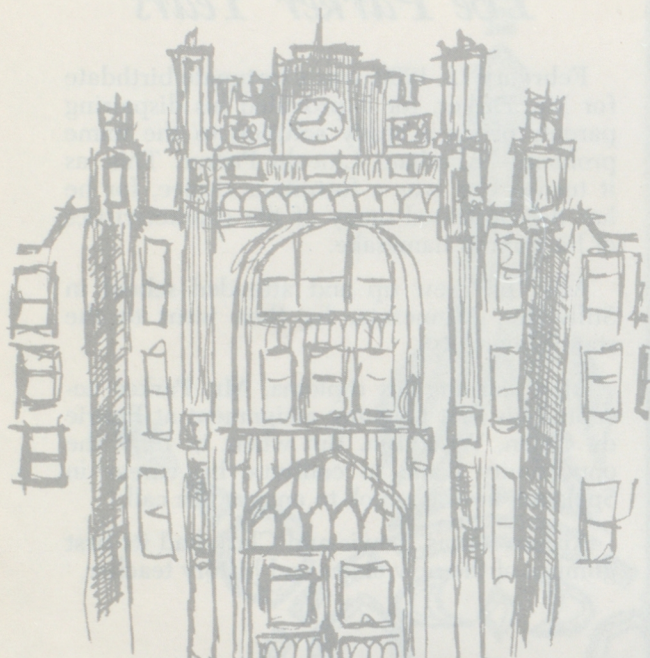

History and civics didn't consume all his time — in fact, PE became increasingly popular with him as his friendship grew with its instructor, Monda Valicanje. After a "gold-fish bowl romance" aided and abetted by the whole school, they were married.

July 1, 1942, was a red-letter day for Vice Principal Parker — for it was then that he first sat in the "principal's chair." He was obviously a popular choice, for his candidacy was supported by every member of the LC faculty.

Additional good fortune visited the Parkers, as they were soon joined by a son, William, and a daughter, Peggy Jo.

The subsequent years passed swiftly, and, more and more Mr. Parker became identified with the growth and development of Lewis and Clark into one of the outstanding secondary schools in the state. His capable guidance engendered the quality of excellence, just as his warmth and enthusiasm solidified an ever-widening circle of friends . . .

This June you will be finishing four years here at Lewis and Clark and I will be finishing forty. You will be graduating and I will be retiring. Yet the theme of your yearbook holds a message and a hope for both of us.

This school, which we all love so well, was named after two rugged individuals who realized that there was the West to conquer and spaces to explore. Now in 1965 with all of the material things we enjoy, with all the scientific knowledge we possess, when all of the world seems to be as close as our backyard, some of us might come to the conclusion that there is nothing more for one to do.

The Lewis and Clark expedition took men of courage, determination, a willingness to work, a faith in themselves and their purpose. And so today for your generation and for mine there are many opportunities if we but look for them. It will take the same qualities, however, for us to succeed today as were possessed by our pioneers.

First of all, let us set our standards of conduct high. Then, with God's help, the wide, wide world will be our West to explore and conquer.

P. S. I love every brick and stone in this building.

EXCHANGE STUDENT

Before I came here, when I thought of America, I imagined cowboys, never-ending plains, Coca-Cola, the Statue of Liberty, "Bonanza," chewing gum, and long, long cars. But the thing that really impressed me here was you, you friends at Lewis and Clark, and in general all the people here in Spokane. You are really a friendly, warmhearted, enthusiastic, young, and great people. Keep this attitude always!

It seems only yesterday when I stepped, tired and scared, from the plane; immediately I was heartily welcomed by my new family and my friends from L.C. That was a wonderful start for a wonderful year! I sure learned a lot here, and not only at school!

I was certainly lucky that I could, through the American Field Service, spend a year with a wonderful family, and with the mighty Tigers!

Well, if one of you ever comes to Italy, you know you have a friend down there!

ARRIVEDERCI! VIVA!

Umberto "Tiger" Zuballi

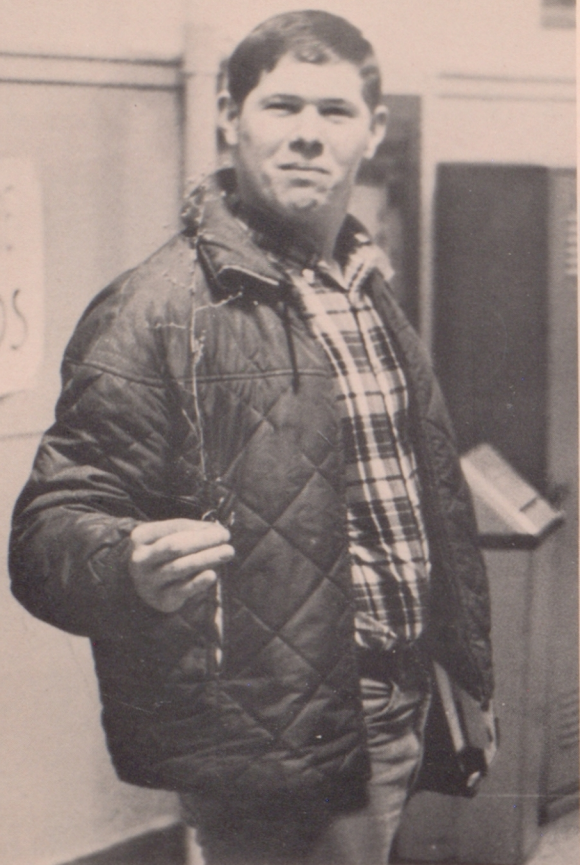

The American Field Service was founded to foster good will among nations through the exchange of students. This program makes it possible for American and foreign students alike to live and study in other lands.

Perhaps one of the greatest experiences to be gained from this program is a better understanding fostered from actual family life. This way a student views the country, not as a tourist, but more as a citizen.

Lewis and Clark has had exchange students from Argentina, Norway, Switzerland, and Italy during the past four years.

Umberto Zuballi, this year's exchange student from Trieste, Italy, is living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Carmichael. Their daughter, Kay, is a junior at LC.

CLUB '65

Wadda ya mean, your Ladies Home Journal –
I brought it in here!

You must have been a beautiful baby!

"To sleep, to sleep
perchance to dream..."

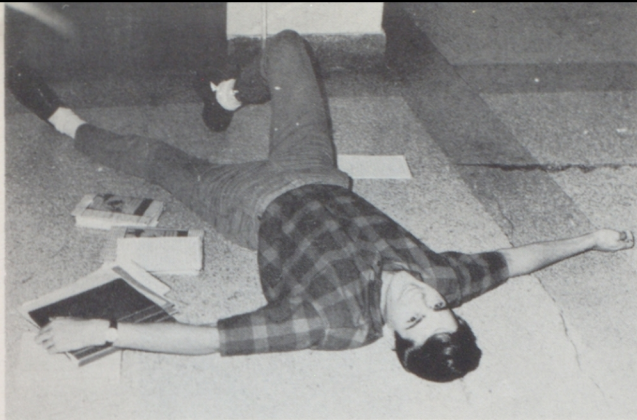

Twist and shout!

Women and children first!

Move over, buddy!

Jack and Jill went up the hill . . .

Where the boys are!

We used to make mud-pies together!

"What fools these mortals be . . ."

"Control yourself, Sue!"

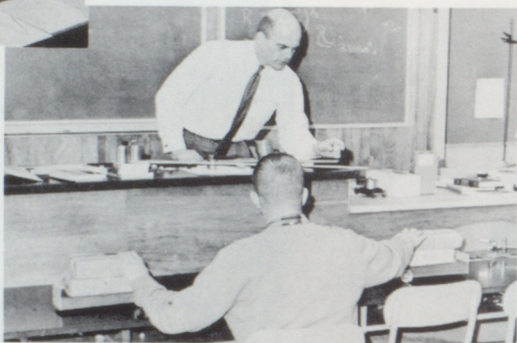

"It itches right there!"

9:15 — Seeking college information

8:40 — Listening to the bulletin and catching up on last-minute homework

11:20 — Proving a theory in physics class

It Was Just One of Those Days . . .

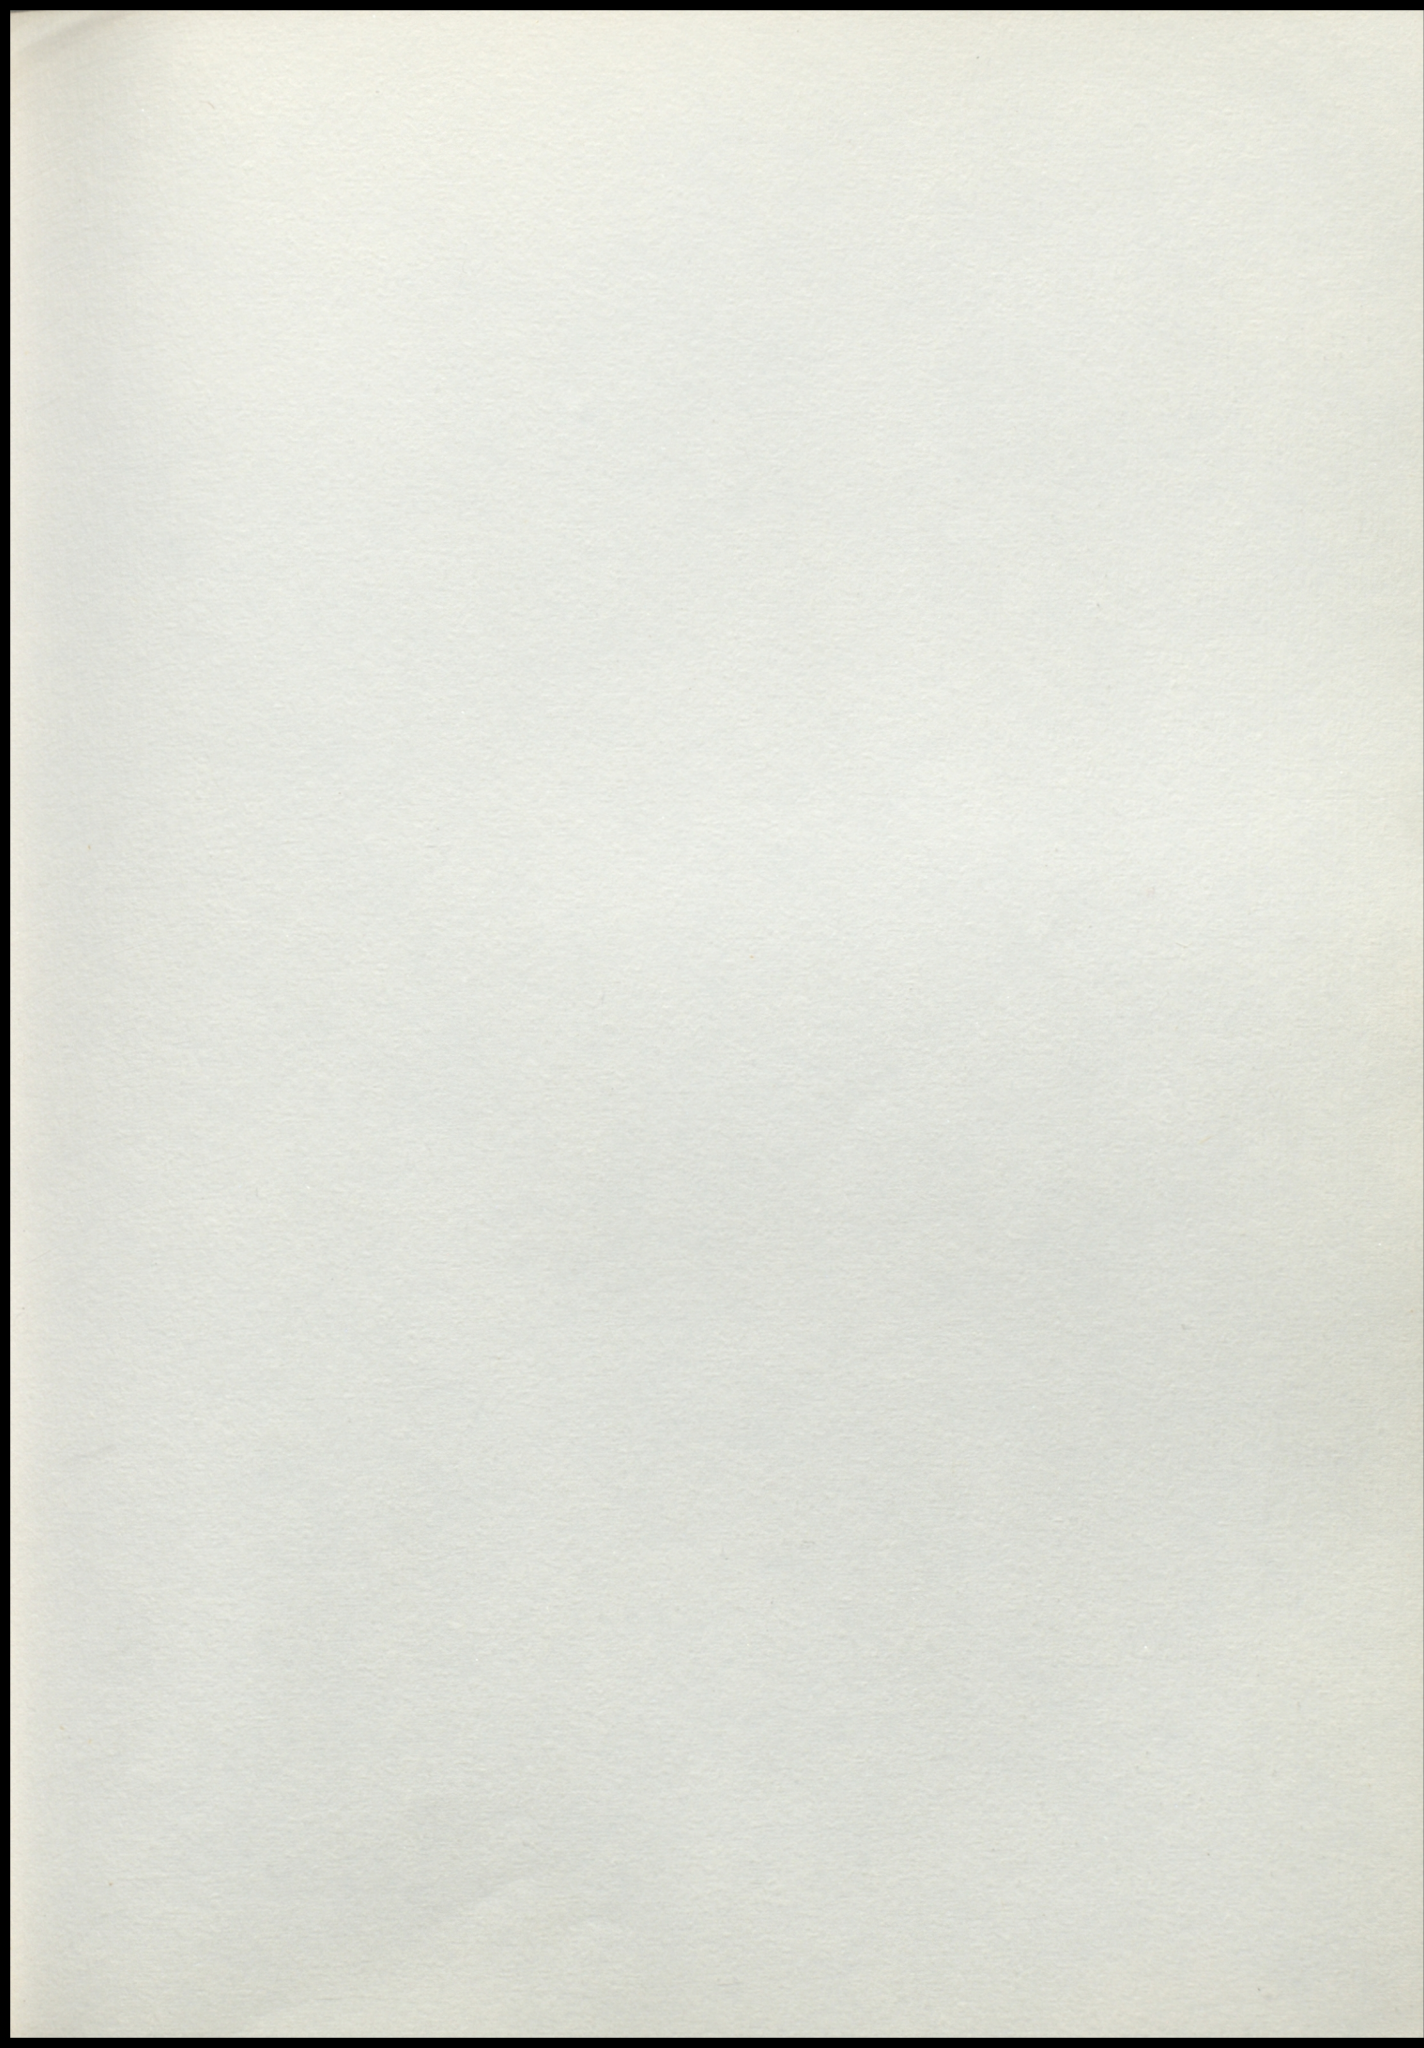

12:10 — RACE to the lunch line

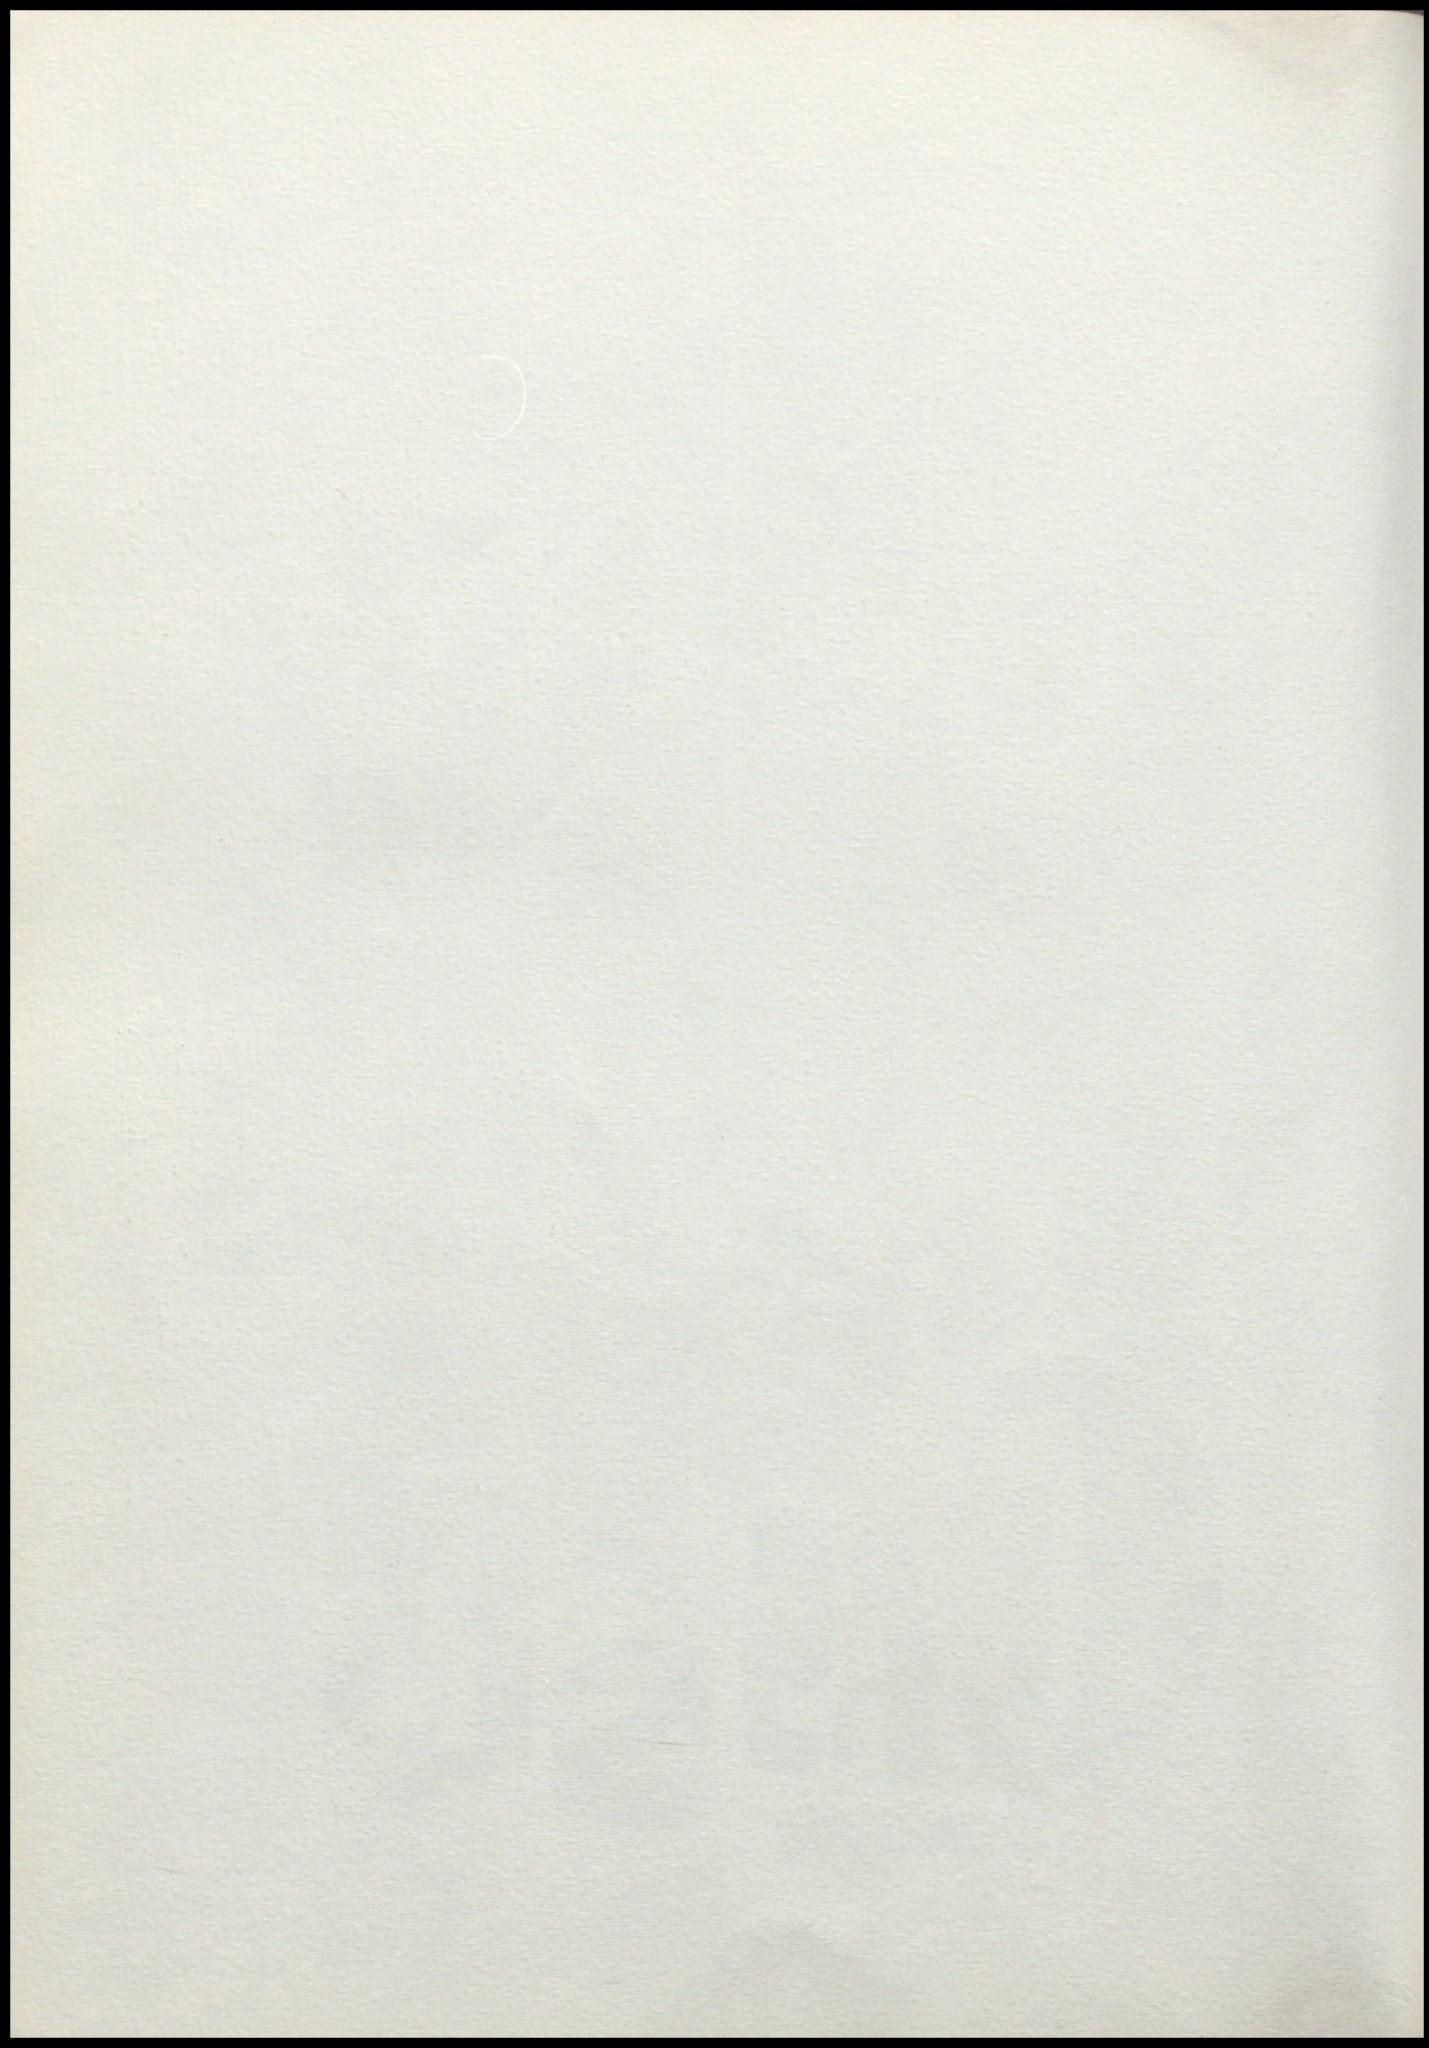

12:40 — Preparing for afternoon classes

3:07 — Refreshment after a hard day's work

 LEARNING FROM THE PAST, PREPARING FOR THE FUTURE.

SPIRIT IS MOST ALIVE
IN COMPETITION....
VICTORY or DEFEAT.

"Hail to the Orange and Black" were the words ringing on the lips of Lewis and Clark students, whose team was victorious in close city league competition this year. A record of seven wins and one loss gave the Tigers the city championship and the Quackenbush Trophy.

Led by such outstanding players as Quarterback Eric Olson; State Lineman of the Year and All-American Mark Pearson; pass-catching, record-breaker Ed Bock; fleet-footed halfback Mark Mounsey, and driving fullback Jack Graves plus a number of top defensive men, the Tigers held their opponents to 14 points per game.

LC fans witnessed thrillers all through the season such as the 52-6 trouncing of Gonzaga Prep, the 35-20 win over West Valley, 45-14 over North Central, a 14-6 win over John Rogers in the first game of the season, and one of the toughest games played by the Tigers this season, a 14-13 squeaker over the Shadle Park Highlanders.

"This is by far one of the best teams I have ever had the pleasure of coaching," stated winning coach Bob Bartlett. Coach Bartlett has been with LC 13 seasons and has chalked up five city championships.

With 25 senior players, the varsity squad next fall will be led by Gerald Moore, Craig Austin, Mark Hussein, Bruce Bledsoe, and Brian Breen. These boys will have a tough job excelling this year's team.

There were three basic senior combinations that led LC to victory this year.

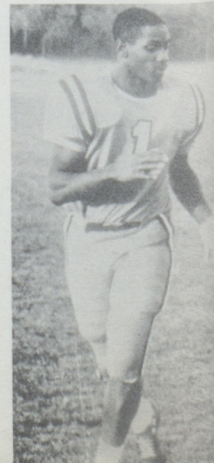

One of the most powerful and most dependable teams was made up of the senior offensive line. This included All-City tackle Bryan Bledsoe, All-American guard Mark Pearson, center Jim Wallingford, guard Lonnie Olson, and tackle Keith Jacobson. This line opened up holes for Graves and gave time for Olson's passes.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS

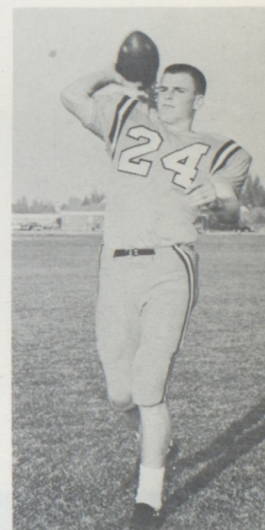

The fabulous team of Eric Olson and Ed Bock broke all-time LC and city passing and pass receiving records. Olson established a career total of 13 touchdown passes with eight of these thrown to Bock this season.

Another important team was that of powerful fullback Jack Graves and fast halfback Mark Mounsey. Mounsey not only ran interference for Graves numerous times but carried the ball 92 times himself and averaged 6.3 yards per carry. Graves led the city league in scoring with 60 points. He averaged 4.6 yards per carry.

A punting record was set by Dick Clute who averaged 37.9 yards per kick.

CROSS COUNTRY

Three seemed to hold a mystical charm over Lewis and Clark's Cross Country team in major meets this year, for they placed third behind Rogers and Shadle Park in city competition, and third again behind the same two schools in the Inland Empire AAU at Downriver. Final top five times for the Tigers at the AAU were: Larry Marker, 9:49; Mike Carosella, 9:52; Jim Hoppe, 10:29; Tom Burkwist, 10:37; and Dick McAuliffe, 10:38.

The jinx was broken, however, when the sophomore team, composed of Tom Burkwist, Pat Linden, Dick McAuliffe, and Bari Newton took first in the Highlander Invitational in competition with 25 other sophomore teams.

Varsity team leaders for this season were Captain, Inspirational Award Winner, and second-year letterman Mike Carosella, second-year letterman Jim Hoppe, and first-year letterman Larry Marker. Other first-year lettermen were: Tom Burkwist, Pete Talbot, Jim Whaley, and Dick Barrett.

One of the biggest wins of the season was made when both LC's Varsity and B squad took a sweep, which consists of taking five first places, over the West Valley Eagles. In that meet the B's put twelve men across the finish line before the Eagles placed a single man. Other scores for the season were: LC over Gonzaga, 15-44; Shadle Park over LC, 16-39; Rogers over LC, 15-48; LC over NC, 18-39; LC over WV, 15-39.

Chances are greatly improved for the team finishing better next season, for this year's team mainly consisted of up-and-coming sophomores and juniors.

BASKETBALL

Outstanding players are front: Captain Frank King, Back: Top city league scorer Doug Taylor and Inspirational Award Winner Dennis Ashe.

By overwhelming University, Shadle Park and Central Valley in play-offs for second place in the city league and by placing ninth in the state, Tiger maplemen finished with a 9-4 city league record and a 19-7 record for the season. After winning all four playoff games LC earned the right to play the AA State Champions, Davis of Yakima, in the Regionals. The Tigers were defeated in that game but came back strong to win over Rogers in the consolation game.

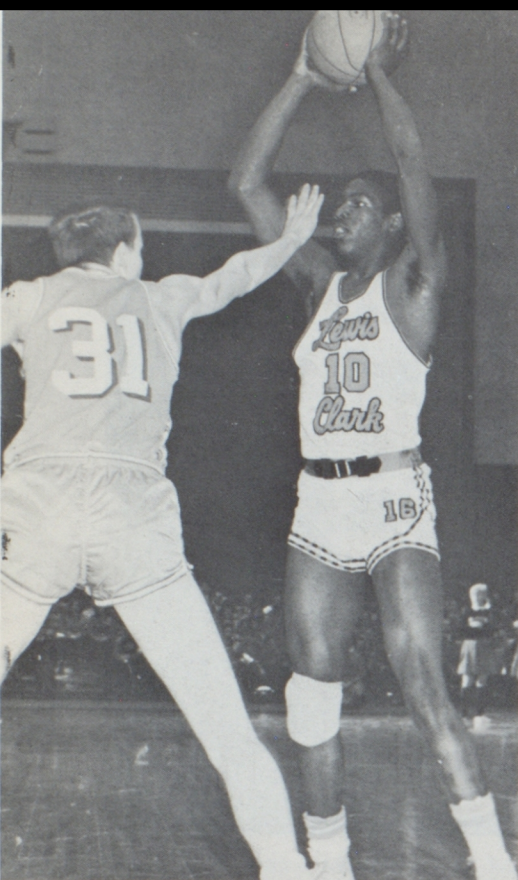

After finishing his first year as head coach, Bob Scott commented, "I felt that the team improved steadily throughout the season. Because of this LC was able to move into the Regionals." He gave special credit for the victories to the top five men on the team. Coach Scott said he felt Doug Taylor improved steadily, Dennis Ashe and Frank King performed well all season, Gary Assing came on very strong toward the last, and 6'9" junior Jay Bond was very dependable and did an outstanding job on offense and defense.

LC played deliberate controlled ball this season. Coach Scott used King, Taylor and Ashe to set up the shots that won the 19 games. With accurate shooting and fast moving the team was able to outpace and outshoot most of their opponents.

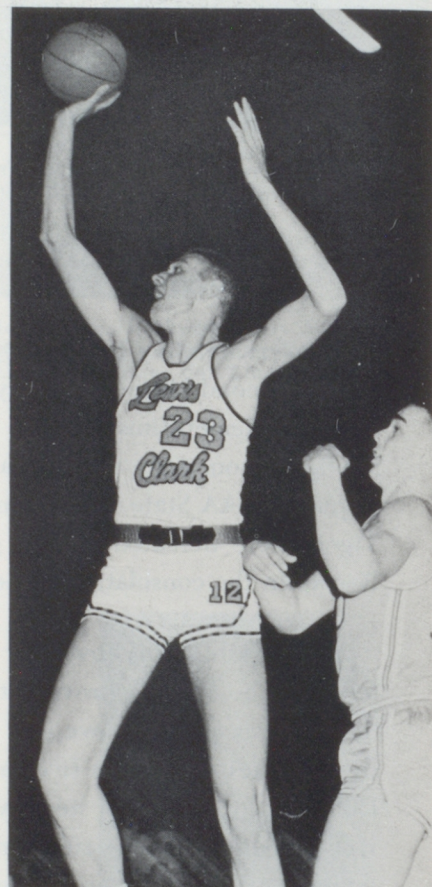

Jay Bond is the top prospect for next season. Along with him Craig Austin, Gene Baldwin, Bill Lund, and George Cain will be returning. Five other seasoned players who have done well on B squad are on the coach's list. Some of these are Bill Maxey, Mike Alward (high point man for B squad), Greg Bogus, Marq Koslowsky, and Dick Lopes.

Coach Bob Scott

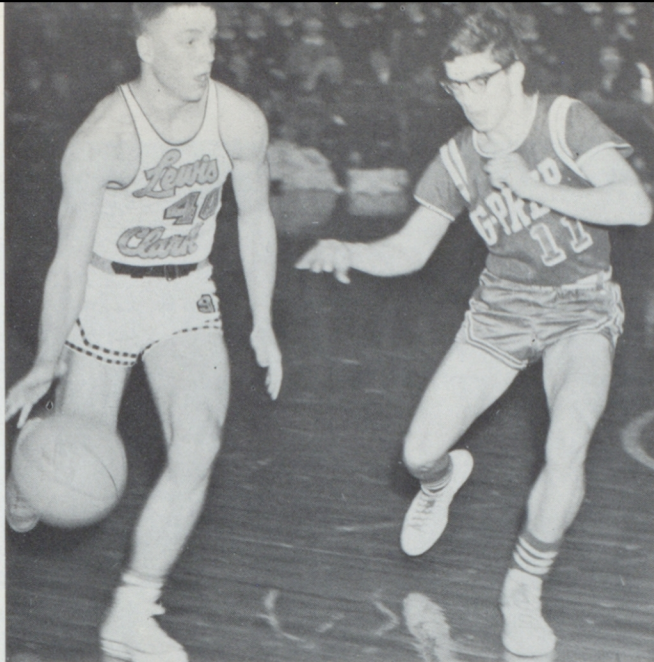

Dennis Ashe: Consistent all season in coming through in a pinch. Good rebounder . . . Made 19 points against Davis (AA State Champions) in the Regionals. He is a member of Regionals first team.

Jay Bond: Second All-City team . . . Good rebounder and defense man. The 6'9" junior saved many rebounds by tip-ins. Top prospect for next year.

Gary Assing: Hustles on defense . . . Came on strong toward the end of the season . . . Good ball handler.

Frank King: First team All-City . . . Excellent shot. He led the team with consistent scoring and was able to bring the ball down-court and set up plays . . . Deadly with driving layups and long shots.

Doug Taylor: First-year varsity . . . All-City first team. He was top City League scorer with a 16-point average per game . . . also made 30 points against Pullman to put LC in the Regionals.

WRESTLING

Finishing with a 5-4 record for the season, LC grapplers gained valuable experience as wrestlers.

"Although we did not set records or take the city title, I feel that, with a majority of the team coming back next year, LC will be able to make a better fight of it," stated wrestling coach Max Schoening. Although inexperienced and younger than most of their opponents, Tiger wrestlers on the varsity squad were still a good match to opposing teams.

Twelve wrestlers were sent to the District matches with three of them taking a ribbon. Junior Randy Johnson placed fourth in his weight, 133; senior Brent Whicker took third place in his weight of 112; and a first year letterman, senior Mark Pearson, placed third in the unlimited weight division.

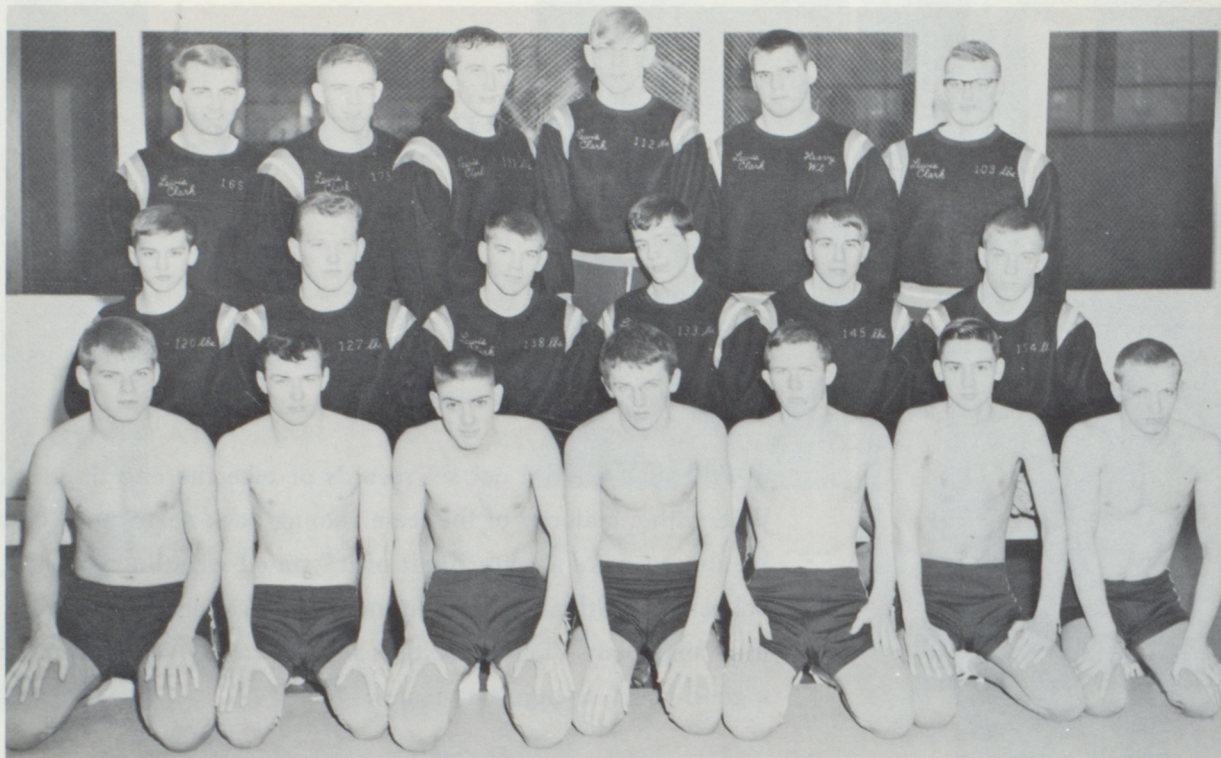

Johnson, the outstanding wrestler for the season, finished with a record of 12 wins, one tie, and one loss. He lost his first match to his second opponent in the District matches. In his first District fight he literally tied his opponent in knots, skunking him 14-0.

Among the other varsity wrestlers who were consistently good all season were seniors Craig Bush and team captain Gary Miller. Juniors Tim Fitzpatrick, Bruce Bledsoe, and Chris Kopczynski all faired well this year. Buddie Craig, who is the upcoming freshman on the team, performed very well in the District meet.

Tying with University and West Valley for third place in the city league, Tiger grapplers finished the 1964-65 season well experienced for next year.

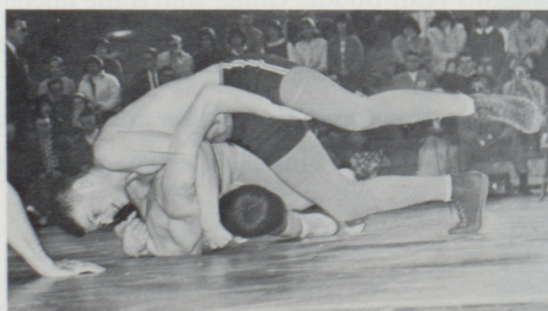

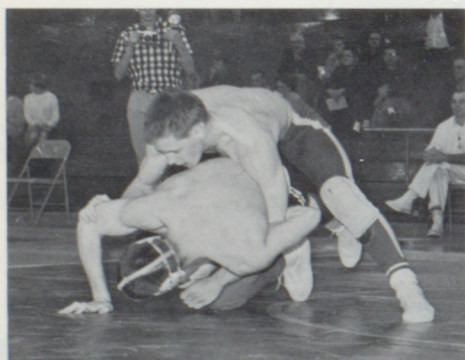

Coach Max Schoening

E. L. HUNTER FIELDHOUSE

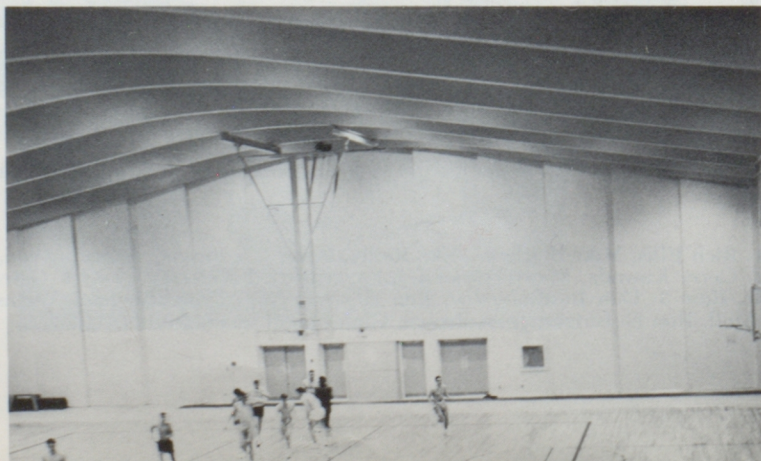

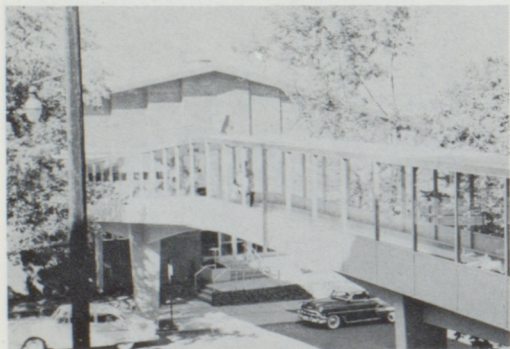

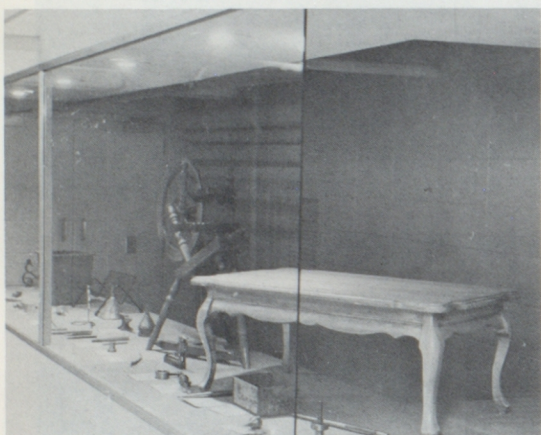

Lewis and Clark's new fieldhouse, named after E. L. "Squinty" Hunter, athletic director for 39 years, was designed by Edwin W. Molander and Associates, Architects, and built by Hazen and Clark, General Contractors.

One of the building's interesting features is the overpass. The structure, whose highest point is 25 feet above the street, is eight feet wide and over 100 feet long. Another unique feature is the beams which can only be seen from inside the gym. Each laminated beam is three flatcars long and is cut from 9,000 board feet of Douglas fir.

The upper floor of the $658,360 building houses two classrooms, a kiln room for the Art Department and a wrestling room. Press boxes overlook the gym floor on the south wall. The faculty and student officers frequently use the conference rooms. Skylights light the upstairs hallway.

The gym has a number of unusual features, including the 385-foot indoor track. The ceiling of the gym is made of perforated aluminum for acoustical purposes. The maple floor has two basketball courts, which can be used for volleyball and badminton. There is also a gymnastics room. The Industrial Arts Department in the lower floor of the building has new equipment.

This building provides students with a place to hold social and athletic functions. It has not only solved an unwieldy traffic problem, but also added beauty to the area.

C

1. The first and most important thing to remember is that the only way to win is to play the game right. This means that you must always be on the move, and you must always be looking for the best possible move. It is not enough to just sit back and wait for the other side to make a mistake. You must be proactive and take control of the game. This is the key to success in any game, and it is the only way to ensure that you are always one step ahead of your opponent.

TRACK

Mel Smith, Outstanding Trackster for the season, excelled in the high jump and the short sprints.

Opening the 1965 track season with its 23rd successive victory over the Gonzaga Prep Bullpups, a strong Tiger track team again showed great depth and versatility in nearly every event.

New faces were in the spotlight along with many of the returning stars from last year. Mel Smith returned to capture victories in the high jump and sprints and to be named Outstanding Trackster.

The widely known 880 and mile relay teams were back with leading runners Jim Hoppe, Lee Goudy, Tom Keasal, Ray Bell and Jim Nichols.

Big Dennis Ashe won the spotlight for the shot-put by consistently throwing over 48 feet.

Stars in other events were Bob Nishimura, high and low hurdles; Jim Bacon, high jump; Ken Privratsky and Bill Devine, pole vault; Mel Smith, 100-yard and 220-yard dashes; and the 440-yard stars, Lee Goudy and Jim Hoppe.

This year's team had its work cut out for it measuring up to the record established by the 1964 squad: a tie for the city league championship, first in the Bi-district meet, and finishing with a sixth place in the Washington State AA track meet in Pullman.

Coach Art Frey

BASEBALL

Outstanding players are Frank King,
Eric Olson, Dick Clute.

The Lewis and Clark nine again finished strong this year by dominating the diamond with outstanding pitching, infielding, and outfielding. The Tigers also were not to be outdone in the field of batting.

The two pitchers who did outstanding jobs all season were Eric Olson, who has had a tremendous arm for the past three seasons, and southpaw Gerry Whitney.

Mark Mounsey, Frank King and Dick Clute led the team in batting through most of the season in City League action.

The infield was composed of top players such as Mark Mounsey at short-stop, Gary Assing at first base, Lew Leigh covering second, and Jerry Demus playing third base.

Left fielder Dick Clute, along with Gary Buckley in center field and Greg Bogus in right field, kept the outfield strong.

Pete Weitz is the man who has coached past, present and probably future City League all-stars and championship teams.
